NORTHERN VIETNAM

SAPA

Vietnam's Mountain Town in the Clouds

Sapa is a stunning mountain town in the far north of Vietnam, nestled high in the Hoàng Liên Son mountain range near the Chinese border. Sitting at around 1,500 meters above sea level, it's famous for its cool climate, misty valleys, and some of the most breathtaking scenery in the country.

The biggest draw of Sapa is its terraced rice fields — layers of green and gold carved into the mountainsides by generations of farmers. Depending on the season, the terraces shift from lush green to brilliant gold, creating a landscape that looks almost unreal.

WHAT AWAITS IN SAPA

ICONIC LANDMARKS

NORTHERN VIETNAM

HANOI

Where History Lives on Every Street

Hanoi is the capital city of Vietnam and one of the oldest capitals in Southeast Asia, with a history stretching back more than a thousand years. It sits in the northern part of the country, along the banks of the Red River, and serves as Vietnam's political and cultural heart.

What makes Hanoi special is the way it blends old and new. The city is known for its ancient temples, tree-lined boulevards, and a charming Old Quarter — a maze of narrow streets where each lane was historically dedicated to a single trade like silk, silver, or paper.

NORTHERN VIETNAM

NORTHERN VIETNAM

NINH BINH

The "Halong Bay on Land"

Ninh Binh is a scenic province in northern Vietnam, located just a couple of hours south of Hanoi. It's often called the "Halong Bay on Land" because of its dramatic landscape — towering limestone karst mountains rising out of green rice paddies, winding rivers, and hidden caves. It's one of the most beautiful and peaceful regions in the country.

The most iconic way to experience Ninh Binh is by taking a traditional sampan boat ride through spots like Tam Coc or Trang An, gliding along calm rivers that pass beneath the cliffs and through low cave tunnels. Trang An is a UNESCO World Heritage Site, recognized for both its natural beauty and cultural significance.

The region is also rich in history. Ninh Binh was once home to Hoa Lu, the ancient capital of Vietnam in the 10th and 11th centuries, before the capital was moved to Hanoi. Visitors can still explore old temples and shrines honoring the early Vietnamese emperors.
